GOLD KING MINE RESPONSE, Farmington, NM area: *Please ask input from other branches....Contamination from the Gold King Mine spill resulted in the activation of Region 6's Emergency Response Team and Incident Management Team. Key personnel from Superfund Division as well as other R6 Divisions are filling key leadership positions and are providing support involving tracking environmental sampling, logistics, planning, operations, and finance in the Regional Emergency Operation Center (REOC). Currently, approximately 22 people are working in the REOC managing the spill, and over 50 EPA staff and contractors have been deployed to various locations in New Mexico and Colorado.
